Ten Cents

The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Pot - Pourri

"If anything should happen to Henry Kissinger, Richard Nixon would then become President" says Rona Barrett in a gossip magazine.

"What's doing with the Howard Hughes of the San Diego Chargers?" asked a friend seeking information about football club owner Eugene Klein.

Grand Jury Notes a Kid Problem

San Diego's 1972 Grand Jury heaved and groaned—and hoisted forth an opinion that it could have acquired with a lot less effort if the members had read this column over the past months.

The Grand old Jury found out about kids—just when we were beginning to believe memory span demands were too great for elderly groups regardless of otherwise impressive talents.

Quoth the 134 page report: "Idleness is one of the greatest enemies in the fight against narcotics. When idle, young and old alike become lonely, mentally disturbed and confused. When they do not receive help they are prone to turn to drugs."

"If young people were to involve themselves in after-school activities or work, their use of drugs could be significantly reduced."

"Officials of this County, and employers, should make every effort to employ the teenager during the summer..."

"The value of this employment would not necessarily be to benefit the youngster financially but would give to him a sense of accomplishment, vocational training and, above all, self-discipline."

"Winston Churchill said, 'Everyone must work... I do not understand these foolish people who waste their lives killing time till time kills them!'"

Those who have followed this column know of our urgings regarding the Lemon Grove Youth Center. At worst, it is but a step away from the ills that accompany street loafing. Yet, through it, some of the youngsters found jobs. Others under the gentle persuasion of the director, found the handle on life, gave up some unrewarding activities, and came back to give counsel to others who were still wallowing about in life's cesspools. Local people paid the operating costs.

Then came the junior high school job bank. Motivated youngsters offered to supply the muscle and intelligence to local jobs for a pittance. Of course they were restricted to part-time, menial jobs.

It was not the success it ought to be. We believe that too many people have been frightened over the years by the legal hazards involved in hiring youngsters for after-school work.

As this column has often stated, union lobbies have convinced lawmakers that anyone employing a youngster would bind him to a dangerous machine under sweatshop conditions. The laws are strict and so overwhelming that only a few youngsters of the impressionable narcotics age can find after-school work. There are no sweat shops any more. Dangerous equipment has long since come under government control. But who would ask a young teenager to run a band saw or pack a dynamite device?

U.S. Senator Alan Cranston this week said he is aghast at the violence and vandalism in public schools. He said $2.4 million worth of damage was done last year in the Los Angeles school district alone, and five students were wounded in a single school shooting incident.

"My Safe School Act of 1973 will assist school districts in finding ways to stem the rising tide of violence and vandalism that endangers children and disrupts schools," he said.

One of the first things the Senate might do would make every youngster employable the minute he becomes a teenager with, say, $1 an hour for his effort. School counselors, instead of being frustrated with unworkable programs, could utilize their time with on-the-job visits, checking "sweat shops" or "dangerous machinery" to which the young employee might have become indentured. The counselors would also gain by the experience since many of them have never held a real job. So how can they counsel effectively?

Finally, in the current issue of the FBI's Law Enforcement Bulletin is an article regarding a regional juvenile detention center in Clay County, Minnesota. The facility is exactly what is envisioned for the Youth Center but with the detention elements of Minnesota.

Jobs, in many cases, would eliminate the problem. Voluntary recreation, such as a youth center facility would eliminate the troubles of others. But in detention, the kids are detained. The detainees have a few options. They could release the youngster to his parents, often to a deplorable condition which was responsible for the juvenile's plight in the first place.

But at the Minnesota facility they attempt to show him "that society does care about his welfare and future." All of that is fine, but even the most intelligent, capable youngster can get into trouble if he is bored through idleness.

Meanwhile, a fund-raiser is being planned by a citizens' group to re-open the youth center (story elsewhere in this issue) and the job bank is still in operation. (Call the employment office at the Lemon Grove Junior High school)

Perhaps, with all this concern, a break-through may be in the offing. When it comes it will involve self-respect based on a sense of accomplishment. Working at a job in which the youngster has an interest could be the first crack in the break through.

Drug, Shooting Charges Filed

A 23-year old Spring Valley man was arrested in Lemon Grove last week and charged with possession of restricted dangerous drugs and the illegal discharge of a firearm.

The suspect, Steven H. Mauldin, of 9035 Kenwood dr., Spring Valley, apparently entered a gasoline station in Lemon Grove on foot while carrying a shotgun.

An attendant at the station had been carrying a short called deputies, who upon time before arriving at the contact with the suspect noted gas station.

'Social Living' To be Required

The Grossmont Union High School District board of trustees has decided to make social living a requirement for graduation.

The social living class, now in its second year, was first instituted as an experimental program last year at five district schools. All eight schools currently offer the class.

Included among the curriculum for the class are sex education, drug education, psychology, family life, and community responsibility. The class, as considered in the board's resolution last week, would be offered to tenth grade students, with the course becoming a graduation requirement for the class of 1977.

The resolution urged each school to seek an enrollment of 50% of the tenth grade students in the class by next year, with all tenth graders enrolled by 1974-75.

SV Rotary To Meet

The weekly luncheon-meeting of the Spring Valley Rotary Club will be Friday in the Ox Bow Inn, Campo rd., Casa de Oro, at 12:10 p.m. All Rotarians are welcome, said president Greg Barker.

Guest speaker will be a member of the club, Dr. Dale P. Hobson, Assistant Superintendent of Business Services for the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District.

Attendance Area Change Plan OK'd

Boundary changes for attendance areas in the Grossmont Union High School District will begin taking place in September to minimize disruption when the district's ninth school, Valhalla, opens in 1974.

A two-step shift, authorized by the district board of trustees last week, calls for emphasis on ninth grade students only next year, so student ties to their present schools will not be too disturbed.

The next shift would begin in the 1974-75 year, when a long range plan to equalize school population goes into effect.

After two years, Mt. Miguel will have transferred about 350 students to Monte Vista, while Monte Vista will have transferred 1,000 students to Valhalla.

Other transfers would include 200 students from El Cajon Valley to Valhalla, 300 students from El Capitan to Granite Hills, and 500 students from Granite Hills to Valhalla.

Other moves would send over 600 students from Santana to Grossmont and El Cajon Valley over a four year period and 50 students from Mt. Miguel to Helix, also over a longer period.

Although no schools will be taken off of double sessions

Lake Elected President Of Lemon Grove CofC

Bob Guest, secretary during chamber meeting last week. Officers will be installed next month in the chamber's annual Installation Dinner at the VFW Hall.

Five New Directors Selected

Five new directors were named for the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce at that organization's regular monthly meeting last Thursday.

New directors, elected by chamber members in two and one half weeks of balloting, are Johnny Johnson, of RCP Co.; Dell Lake, of Del Ron's; Richard Norquist, of Southern California First National Bank; Les Cleer, of Cleer Signs; and Frank Drongowski, local oral surgeon.

The new directors then joined 14 holdover directors in selecting 1973 officers for the chamber.

Lake Elected

Dell Lake was elected president, Johnny Johnson is the new vice president, Bob Guest was named secretary, and Al Woods will continue as treasurer. Lake will replace Mike Carlen, Johnson will take over the vice president office, which was vacated by Don Minnick several months ago when he moved from the area, and Guest will take over for Gary Sweet as secretary.

Lake later appointed Dr. Griffith Clark, local veterinarian, as an associate director, replacing Frenchy Foucher, who recently retired from his position as Lemon Grove Postmaster.

All officers will be seated at the chamber installation dinner March 17.

In other action at the meeting Thursday, reports on a flag project, the Broadway improvement project, the installation dinner, and the annual Old Time Days celebrations were heard.

Flag Project

The Lemon Grove Soroptimists Club has proposed that American Flags should be established along Broadway once the improvement project is completed and medians are installed.

The Soroptimists have agreed to underwrite the project and the VFW is expected to help.

Bob Russell reported on the proposed Broadway improvement project, which is to be

Sex Education And Counseling Leading Concern of Students

High school students in California are most concerned with the areas of counseling and sex education, and the discipline problems associated with on-campus smoking, according to a statewide survey of student attitudes conducted by Roger Moore, student member of the State Board of Education.

Moore, a Grossmont High School student who serves as the non-voting student representative of the California Association of Student Councils on the State Board, released his findings at the meeting of the Governing Board of the Grossmont Union High School District earlier this week.

As the only student member of the State Board of Education, Moore said he felt the need to be better informed about the attitudes of California's high school students. He mailed a questionnaire to all Associated Student Body presidents in the state, asking them to respond to ten different topics, including such traditional areas as English curriculum, physical education, and social studies, and indicating those areas in need of "drastic reform."

A large number of questionnaires were returned, enough, he said, "to represent every geographical area in the state."

Students were asked to write comments on those areas they indicated as needing reform. The number one concern, receiving almost unanimous balloting, was smoking. Some comments were: "Smoking in the bathrooms has been a problem not only for those who smoke, but even more for those who don't. A smoking area is needed to get smokers out of the bathrooms." Other respondents wrote, "A set smoking area would lessen vandalism to school property."

Student's next highest area of concern was sex education. Many students comments were similar to this one: "There is absolutely no sex education class in our school. Some students are so naive that they can't handle the real world." Others wrote, "Sex should be understood by all and not left to wonder about." "Sex education is completely avoided."

Counseling was another area of high concern. Many students agreed that "we feel it is so important, yet they are always 'too busy.'" Most students assessed the problem with the comment that "Counselors have so many students assigned to them that no student receives adequate attention."

Other areas in which students saw a need for more emphasis included drug education and minority studies.

Students saw less need for change in the following areas: career planning, vocational education, English, physical education, and social studies curriculum.

Gas Leaks Cause Hazard In Casa de Oro

Gasoline leaking from underground pipes in Casa de Oro has become a problem for Pacific Telephone Company, as up to 66 gallons of gasoline have been pumped out of manholes and conduit in a single day.

The problem, according to Spring Valley Fire Chief Stan Mourning, has been caused by underground springs rusting away pipes leading from gasoline storage tanks to surface pumps at the Hancock station in the 9900 block of Campo rd.

Mourning said that he has ordered the closing of some of the underground tanks. The station owner has resisted replacing the leaking pipes because he is in the process of selling the station.

Mourning said that the situation causes a hazard as far as explosion and property damage. An explosion could result from a spark in the underground lines, and continuous seepage could ruin the expensive phone cables.

Pacific Telephone has checked the lines almost daily since September, when the problem was detected.

SD Man Held In Rape Case

A San Diego man was arrested and charged with forcible rape last week after a 14-year old Monte Vista High School student reported the alleged incident.

According to Sheriff's Department reports, the victim was walking to school last Monday morning when a van pulled up alongside in the roadway.

The suspect then reportedly displayed a gun, ordered the girl into the van and raped her before dropping her off at Monte Vista.

The victim supplied the Sheriff's Department with a detailed description of the suspect and the vehicle, including a license plate number.

A check of the license number led to the arrest of Tony L. Jones, 21, of San Diego, who was taken into custody at his home about 3 1/2 hours after the victim contacted deputies.

Spring Valley Man To Return, P.O.W. Or Not

A Spring Valley man, although not officially a prisoner of war, will be returning home within the next two months with about 50 other civilian captives of North Vietnam.

Alex Henderson, 49, was captured in 1968.

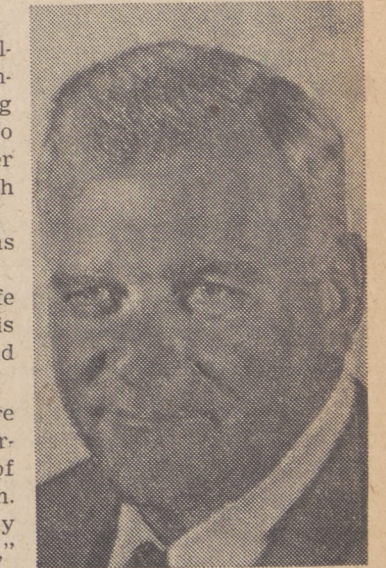

Since that time, his wife has received no letters, but is confident that he is alive and well.

Shortly after his capture over three years ago, Henderson was identified as one of four men in a photograph. "One of the four men was my husband, I was sure of that," Mrs. Henderson said of the photo, which was sent her from Washington.

Her husband was captured while he was working for a construction company in Hue, a target city of the 1968 Tet offensive.

Henderson will be greeted by a surprise when he returns, said Mrs. Henderson—five grandchildren.

He told chamber members that red tape and problems on the county level had caused delays but that at present work on paperwork for the projects has resumed. He noted that the possibility of putting in colored bricks in

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The Postal Service is not "slowing down", as you so knowingly put it. The amount of mail handled daily, by fewer personnel, has soared to astronomical heights. True, there is a freeze on employment induced by management, to cut costs. Who do you think is absorbing the extra work caused by new construction of homes and apartments? Who do you think is working six days a week, ten to twelve hours a day to get the increasingly heavy load out, with no extra help? True, this does take up much of the average letter carriers "free time".

Your use of the rather grandiloquent word "malingering" to describe to your readers "many postal employees" proved most effective in stirring up hate and discontent against the average employee. Congrats! Have you ever taken the time to tour an average Post Office lately and observe the mountains of mail moved daily by these "malingeringers"?

If I were informing the public on the discrepancies of a system or a business, I would take the time to track down some of those complaints by "disgruntled patrons". Nine out of ten letters delivered "late" have bad or incomplete addresses. A look at the postmarks of most "late" checks will prove they had been only mailed a day or two previous. Most ruined parcels are due entirely to having been poorly wrapped. You also fail to mention many of the good deeds performed daily by letter carriers throughout the country, but we will not boast of them here; they are on record.

P.S. Do not use my name because there are those who may (management) try and make trouble at work for me. I cannot afford to jeopardize my job at this time, however, I and my fellow workers think we rate "equal time" in your paper, seeing how we deliver it every week, with very poor print to read patron's addresses.

Dare you print this this? We doubt it!

A Letter Carrier

Dear Editor,

If one goes back in time, he will find that nearly every nation on earth was first peopled by immigrants.

Which is no reason why the United States forever should be a dumping ground for people from foreign lands.

No other nation has quotas for everyone.

No other nation spends hundreds of millions teaching its people birth control and simultaneously admits hundreds of thousands of immigrants.

Probably no other nation has a people who would tolerate such a policy.

Many immigrants are on welfare. Let's end all immigration until we have full employment. Write to your Congressmen and to President Nixon.

Sincerely,
O. L. Brannaman

Dear Editor:

Now they are going to give welfare to dog owners. Even if the animal's owner is well-to-do.

That's what's involved in the County Board of Supervisor's latest share-the-tax program.

Supervisors have set aside $100,000 to build a county animal spay clinic. It would spay or neuter any animal at cut-rate prices with the loss being paid for by non-animal owners out of the general fund.

Why should I have to pay for the surgery on someone else's pet? The person who acquires a cat or dog takes on the responsibilities that come with it.

The $100,000 is just a start. After the clinic goes into operation, it will have to be maintained by taxpayers.

You should write your Supervisor demanding that they rescind their 3-2 action. Voting yes were Supervisors Bear, Walsh and Craveris. Voting no were Brown and Condon.

San Diego newspaper executive Alex De Bakcsy has accepted the chairmanship of the 1973 United Crusade, Philip M. Klauber, president of United Community Services of San Diego County announced.

De Bakcsy is general manager of the Union-Tribune Publishing Co., and vice president and director of The Copley Press, Inc.

In making known De Bakcsy's appointment, Klauber observed that the new chairman has already begun planning campaign strategy including not only the selection and recruitment of key volunteers but also the development of the theme and method of presentation of the Crusade story.

Scouts Celebrate 63rd Anniversary This Month

For 63 years, the Boy Scouts of America organization has provided an educational program for the youth of America, and members in this area will celebrate its anniversary this month with special activities, competition, and recognition.

More than 44,000 boys, young adults, and adults will show that "Scouting today is a lot more than you think," according to Walter A. Zitlau, President of San Diego County Council.

A special program emphasis for 1973 is "citizenship," and many of the 792 Cub Scout packs and Scout troops will undertake citizenship projects during the anniversary celebration.

Major features of the local anniversary celebration will be the recognition of partner organizations that use the BSA program in this area and the recognition of pack and troop leaders.

"Without the cooperation of local organizations and the dedicated leadership by volunteers, we would not be able to make available to youth our program of character development, citizenship training, and physical and mental fitness," Zitlau said.

Organizations in this area that use the program include churches, synagogues, PTA's, service clubs, veterans' organizations, unions, professional societies, and business and industry.

Local activities in February in the San Diego County Council and its seven districts and Explorer Division include Window Displays, Scout-O-Rama, participation in naturalization programs, and outdoor activities.

Also in the spotlight during the anniversary celebration will be "Operation Reach" and "Project SOAR," Zitlau said.

Operation Reach is the BSA national action plan related to drug abuse prevention which was launched in Scout troops last year.

Project SOAR, which stands for Save Our American Resources, is the Scouts' education and action program for environmental improvement.

In addition, Zitlau said, Scout troops will be preparing for two major national activities.

The 1973 National Scout Jamboree, which will be held next August at two sites — Moraine State Park, Pa., and

Spring Valley Painter Is Employee of Year

Spring Valley resident Joseph De Crescente of 8908 Jamacha blvd., Spring Valley, was named Navy Employee of the Year. He serves the San Diego Navy Public Works Center as a painter.

De Crescente was honored before the PWC Executive Board in awards presentations last week. In addition, as part of the honors De Crescente, his wife Doris and 10 children and grandchildren were special guests of Sea World for a day's free run of the marine park.

PWC Commanding Officer, Captain James A. Burfield said De Crescente was selected from among over 1,600 PWC civil service employees for Employee of the Year honors because of his combined civic participation and "exceptional" professional capabilities.

"He's the kind of man who appears to believe his off duty time is to be spent helping others. Right now he and fellow PWC employees are helping build a new home for an Indian family aboard the Campo Indian Reservation during off duty weekends. For many years he's been involved in a wide-range of civic activities in Mexico ranging from building orphanages to dental and medical clinics. Combined with his professional expertise on the job these capabilities make him a definite asset to any organization," according to PWC Painter General Foreman Robert Hale, Jr.

More closely associated with De Crescente during the working day, his co-workers are quick to expound on his professional capabilities. They called him a man with complete knowledge of all aspects of the painting trade, which not only includes painting and wall papering, but wood graining and furniture refinishing as well.

The open air display, which is open to the public, will feature works of art in various media, including oils, water colors, and creative crafts.

Matadors Win Pair Despite Shabby Play

Mt. Miguel High School, despite some sloppy play, had an excellent basketball week last week by whipping the El Capitan Vaqueros, 80-50 and knocking off the El Cajon Braves, 67-62.

The Matadors opened up the week on Tuesday afternoon, hosting the Vaqueros, a team that promptly died under the pressure of a fierce defense and good rebounding.

After the first eight minutes, Mt. Miguel had a 17-4 year and it was clear that El Capitan would rather fight than play basketball. A total of 46 fouls were called during the course of the evening.

Mt. Miguel overcame the foul problems to up its lead to 19 points by halftime, adding eight more in the third quarter and three in the finale to ice the victory.

Things went differently in Friday night's game against the El Cajon Braves, who invaded the Matador gym in search of their first victory.

Both teams played well in the first quarter but Mt. Miguel continued the pace in the second stanza to take a five point halftime lead.

In the third quarter, Mt. Miguel appeared to be turning the game into a laughter, boosting its lead to as high as 15 points before settling for an 11-point bulge going into the last eight minutes.

From the tipoff at that point, El Cajon began its rally, chopping away at the lead as Mt. Miguel took too many chances that went awry.

The clock continued to tick fast enough however, so the Braves fell short by five points.

Both teams looked bad during most of the game, as the Matador defense was shabby and the El Cajon offense was plagued by turnovers.

The second half of the season begins this week with Mt. Miguel tied for second place with Grossmont, a team the Matadors were to face Tuesday.

Padre Pitchers On Area Caravan

Youngsters this season who join the Little Swingers will receive tickets to nine Padre games as well as a handsome Padre warm-up jacket, all for $5.

Schedules and ticket information also will be available.

Gulls Suspend Foley; Seek Home-ice Record

The Gulls will not be blessed with the services of defenseman Rick Foley until he sheds 24 of his 244 pounds of unnecessary fat.

General manager Max McNab told Foley several weeks ago that he would be suspended if he failed to comply, but not hard enough. He weighed in early this week at 244, the same weight he carried when he got the warning.

Foley, noted for his hard-hitting play, changed from "tiger" to "pussycat" as his weight increased. He was benched last week and suspended Sunday.

Meanwhile, the Gulls are looking for an all-time home ice record for victories as they meet the Tulsa Oilers tonight at the Sports Arena. Faceoff for the contest with the Central League club is 7:30.

The Gulls are now 15-3-3 on home ice and a new record will be set when they win 23. There are 15 home games remaining and they need to play 500 home ice games to achieve the goal. "I'm confident we can do it," General Manager Max McNab said Monday.

Saturday's 4-3 victory over the Seattle Totems was aided by two goals by Bob Courcy, veteran right winger who tallied 100 goals as a Gull with his second one. Nels Vennerus and Tom Trevelyan accounted for the other two.

In the 21 home games played thus far, the Gulls have outscored the opposition 80-37. Ken Broderick, the top goalie in the WHLL, has registered his three shutouts on San Diego ice and Bob Champoux had his shutout this year in the Sports Arena. Broderick has a 10-2-1 record at home and has allowed only 18 goals in all of those games for an average of 1.46 goals allowed per game.

Rippers Whip Rascals For Second Spot

The Rippers, slow starters in the Suburban Soccer League's Division IV, continued a late season surge last week to edge within two points of the league lead.

The Rippers, down by four points last week and lolling in a three-way tie for second place, trumped the league leading Rascals, 2-1 to gain sole possession of second place.

While the Rippers were winning, the other two teams that were tied for second place lost. The Cues were knocked off by the Monarchs, 3-2, while the Pros dropped a tight contest to the Chargers, 2-1. The win for the Chargers afforded the team the opportunity to leap from fifth place to the third spot, one point behind the Rippers.

In the only other games played, the Playboys bombed the Braves, 4-1, and the Colts edged the Marauders, 4-3.

In Division III, the Roadrunners ripped the Rangers, 5-0, to take over third place while the Hawks dropped a 1-0 contest to the Lions to dip into fourth.

The victory for the Lions enabled the team to keep pace with league leading Atlas United, which claimed a 6-0 decision over the Razorbacks. The Lions are in second place, four points behind Atlas.

In other games, the Continentals snapped a losing streak by thumping the Celtics, 3-1, while the Royals blanked the Raiders, 2-0.

The Kings, unbeaten leaders in Division II, blasted the Kingsmen, 9-1, to continue atop the standings, while second place Sparta whipped third place Aztecs, 3-1, to keep pace, two points behind.

In other games, the Rebels and Loma Villa battled to a 3-3 tie, while the Crusaders topped Torino, 7-2.

Outstanding player of the week was Mike Keller, who scored four goals as the Roadrunners beat the Rangers, 5-0.

This Saturday's schedule includes games at Sunset Park in La Mesa, Monte Vista High School, Robb Field at San Diego State, and National City Junior High School.

against San Diego in one game in the Arena has been six. That happened on January 6 when Denver beat the Gulls by a 6-5 score.

The game with Tulsa this Thursday marks the start of John Morrell month. The John Morrell Meat Company will be giving away discount coupons for several of their products and in every game during February, there will be drawings for several items on the Morrell Meat Menu. They will also be sponsoring three Ladies Nights. Phoenix will play the Gulls on February 4, 11 and 25. For those three games, all ladies will receive a $1 discount on any $3 or $3.50 seat.

Rotary Wins Two Squeakers For Hoop Lead

Spring Valley Rotary rode through on the skin of its teeth last week to continue unbeaten in first place in the "A" league of the Spring Valley Recreation basketball league.

Rotary won a pair of games — both one-point decisions — to continue a game ahead of second place Kiwanis, also winner of two games.

Rotary whipped Coastal Rigging, 53-52, then edged last place SV Recreation, 51-50 to claim two victories. Kiwanis whipped Rigging, 48-32, and thumped the Trotters, 62-47 to move into second place.

The two losses for Rigging were the team's first of the season, knocking the Riggers into third place. The Riggers also won one game, a 55-44 decision over the Spring Valley Lions.

In the only other A league game, the Trotters topped Recreation, 54-45.

In the B league, the Roadrunners vaulted into the lead by winning a pair of games, 55-25 over the Bucks, and 44-30 over the Lakers, while the former leaders, the Celtics, split a pair of games, 26-23 over the Bucks, and a 36-22 loss to the Knicks.

The Knicks also won their only other game of the week to tie for third place with the Hawks. That victory was over the Hawks, 41-34.

In the only other game, the Hawks beat the Lakers, 32-31. In the C league, the Bruins beat the Conquistadors, 30-18, and the Green Gremlins, 41-22, to continue unbeaten in first place.

The Warriors also won a pair of games, 28-18 over the Pistons, and 27-23 over the Conquistadors, to vault into second place.

Claude Gilbert, 39, who for the past six years has been an assistant coach at San Diego State, was named to succeed Don Coryell as head coach of the Aztecs.

The announcement on Gilbert was made by San Diego State Athletic Director Ken Karr at a press conference at the Town and Country Convention Center Thursday evening.

Gilbert replaces Coryell as head coach after Coryell accepted the head coaching job of the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League last Thursday. Gilbert came to San Diego State in 1967 after coaching Southwestern College to the co-champion-

Q's 'Red Baron' Robbins Regaining Rebound Ability

The Red Baron of the ABA is at it again!

Since the league was founded in 1967, people have been trying to figure out how Austin (Red) Robbins manages to do his thing right out in front of everybody — and never get noticed in spite of a scrawny 195 lbs draped over a 6-8 frame.

Red's "thing" is hauling down rebounds. He is called a pro's pro by the people who know him best — the guys he plays with and against.

Robbins loomed as a prize selection by Q's General Manager, Alex Groza in San Diego's expansion draft, last July.

"Red had been sick with pneumonia near the end of last season," explained Alex, "and when Utah failed to protect him in the expansion draft, hoping we would think he had not recuperated, we decided to grab him."

Just as it appeared that Groza had scored a major coup in tapping the ABA's second leading career rebounder, Red caught an elbow in the eye at his new team's first practice session and suffered a detached retina.

"I thought my world had come to an end," grinned the popular redhead, "there just isn't too much work around for one-eyed basketball players 'specially old, skinny ones."

After surgery on the eye, which Red in his best Louisiana draw describes as having been done "— very carefully, like two porcupines making love," Robbins went through a two month recuperating period.

"I'm still having to learn to do things differently," he adds. "I didn't have any training camp in which to learn to play with these fellows — most of whom I never played with before."

Red admits to having some continuing eye problems.

"I just have to accept the fact that it'll never be completely normal again. I've lost some of my peripheral vision and that's rough on any athlete, particularly a basketball player."

Over Red's career in which he was an all star performer in four of his six seasons in the ABA, he has averaged about 1.5 turnovers and 14.1 points while playing about 34.2 minutes.

He has become the team's third most productive rebounder with 7.3 per contest and only Gene Moore has more rebs per minutes played (one every 2.8 minutes) than Red's grab every 3.5 minutes.

"I've watched him all six ABA seasons," says Groza, with a shake of his head,

"and he never ceases to amaze me. He's out there but you never seem to see him doing anything. Then you check the stats and he's pulled down a dozen rebounds (career average is 12.2 per game) and is doing something every damn minute he's out there (career record is a rebound every 2.8, minute of action) — but you never seem to notice him."

"I don't know about that," grins the Bayou Bandit, "whenever I miff one, everybody seems to notice."

And so saying, the Red Baron of the ABA zooms off in, to yet another of the 478 dog-fights that have become a part of his life.

All-Girl Rodeo Due At SD Country Estates

Joe Namath, Wilt Chamberlain, Henry Aaron... all names synonymous with stardom in their respective sports. And in the world of women's rodeo, the name is Sammy Thurman.

For more than 15 years the Arizona mother of three has been the superstar of the gals' rodeo circuit. And she will attempt to add new laurels to her long list in the Western States All Girl Rodeo Championship at San Diego Country Estates February 10 and 11. Sammy has announced her entry in at least three events in the GRA-approved competition.

The tall, dark-eyed brunette now devotes most of her time to training horses and giving clinics. But she can't completely desert the world of rodeo that she first entered by riding calves at the age of five. By the time she was 12, she was giving roping exhibitions and soon after began competing against the men.

"I can't remember when I couldn't ride a horse," says Sammy. And she has proved that with a world title in barrel racing and a top-15 ranking for 12 years in a row.

She will leave her winter training camp at Scottsdale, Arizona, to compete for regional titles in calf roping, team roping and goat tying. Also scheduled in the two-day competition at the new San Diego Country Estates arena are bullriding, bareback bronc riding, and barrel racing. More than $1400 in added prize money will be at stake for more than 50 of the top gal riders and ropers in the Far West.

Joan Embury, Rhino Due On Carson Show

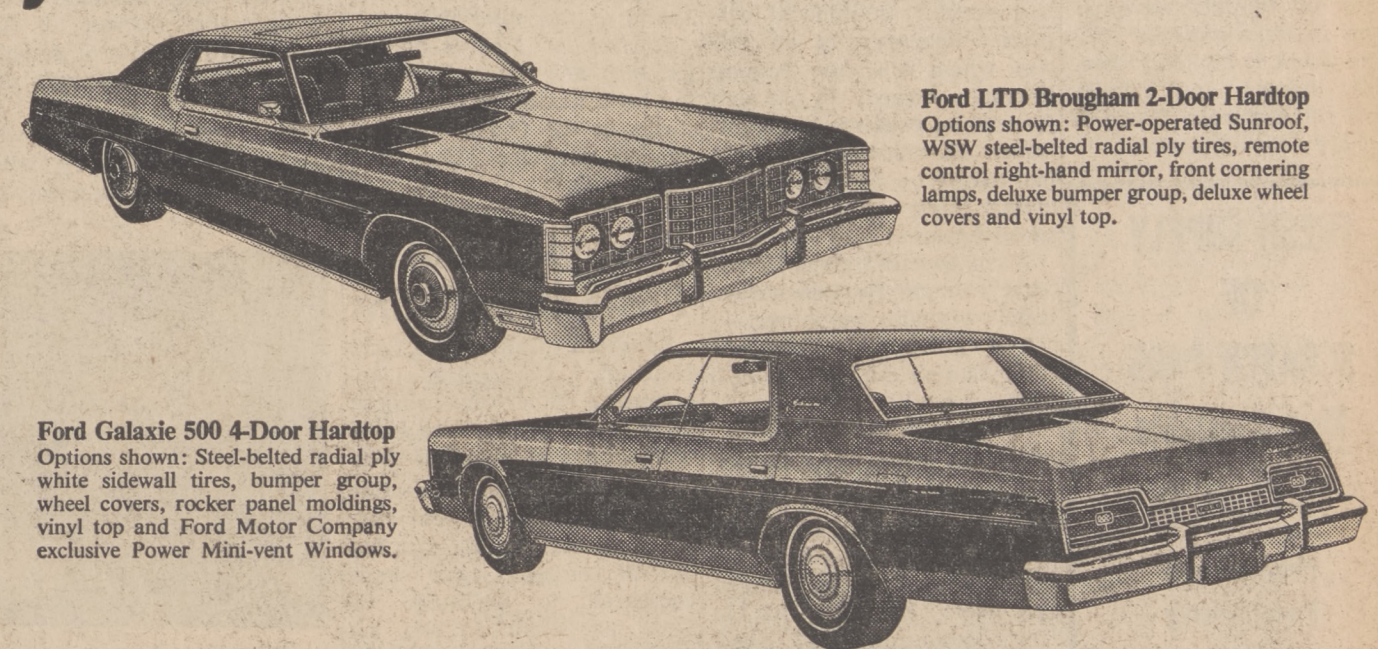

Joan Embury, San Diego Zoo's goodwill ambassador, and a rare baby white rhino will be special guests on the Feb. 6 "Tonight" show starring Johnny Carson on NBC-TV.

While this will be Joan's seventh appearance on the Carson show, seen locally on KGTV, Channel 10, it will be the first time for a baby rhino as a Carson guest, or probably the first time on television anywhere.

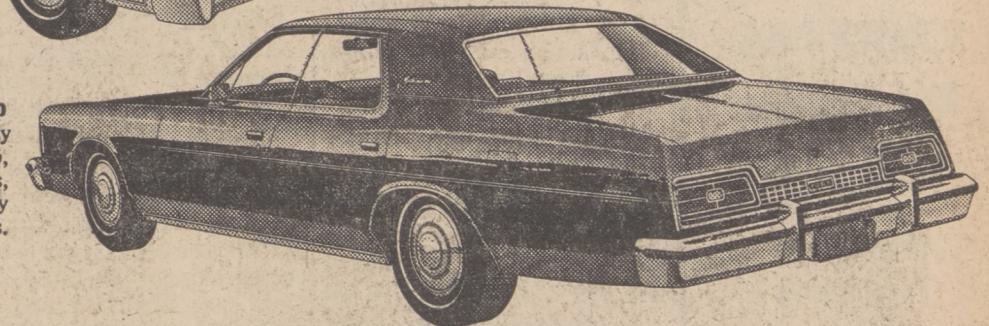

One to Two

On an average, in Great Britain there is one car for every two households.

If you haven't seen the new Fords, you haven't seen what's new for '73.

Ford Galaxie 500 4-Door Hardtop
Options shown: Steel-belted radial ply white sidewall tires, bumper group, wheel covers, rocker panel moldings, vinyl top and Ford Motor Company exclusive Power Mini-vent Windows.

Ford LTD Brougham 2-Door Hardtop
Options shown: Power-operated Sunroof, WSW steel-belted radial ply tires, remote control right-hand mirror, front cornering lamps, deluxe bumper group, deluxe wheel covers and vinyl top.

The closer you look, the better we look.

Two unbiased panels of auto experts took a close look at all the '73 cars. Tested them thoroughly. Based upon these tests...

Ford won "Car of the Year" in Road Test's competition. Ford LTD won "Full-size Sedan of the Year" in Motor Trend's competition.

The 1972 dry bean crop is expected to be about 13 per cent greater than last year.

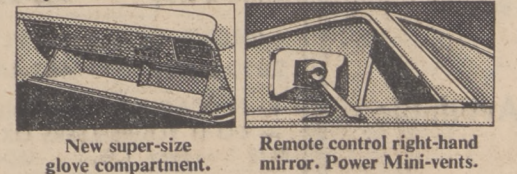

A close look shows why restyled Fords (LTD's and Galaxie 500's) won top awards. Motor Trend said, "The clincher was Ford's stock in trade: a super-quiet interior, isolation from noise."

Standard luxuries scored big: 351 V-8, automatic transmission, power steering and brakes, power ventilation, body-side moldings, and more. You'll like the spacious Ford Front Room. Full-length door armrests. Plush carpeting.

New instrument panel for maximum driver and passenger convenience.

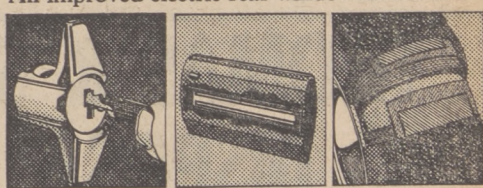

Optional better ideas: Fingertip Speed Control, Select-Aire Conditioner plus Automatic Temperature Control. AM/FM Stereo Radio with Tape Player and dual speakers front and rear.

New super-size glove compartment. Remote control right-hand mirror. Power Mini-vents.

More for '73. A glove box bigger than any of Ford's standard-size competitors. Options like a remote control right-hand mirror that's driver adjustable. Power Mini-vents on 4-Door Fords. An improved electric rear window defroster.

For driving peace of mind... optional steel-belted radial ply tires. Standard safety features include side-door Steel Guard Rails, an Energy Absorbing Bumper System, and more. And there's a new optional Anti-theft Alarm System. So much is new we invite your close look. Road Test calls the '73 Ford "the finest family car to be found at its price in showrooms today."

Quiet is the sound of a well-made car.

Ali-Bugner Fight Scheduled For Closed Circuit TV at Arena

It will be St. Valentine's night for lovers but it will be a rough night in the ring for the 22-year old European heavyweight title holder.

That is the night Hungarian born Joe Bugner, meets former heavyweight champ Muhammad Ali in a closed circuit telecast emanating from Las Vegas.

Bugner is the current European heavyweight title holder and rated number 8 by RING magazine. He is in pretty exclusive company what with Jack O'Halloran and Kenny Norton who claim positions 8, 9 or 10.

Speaking of the two local heavyweights, Norton is still being touted as the opponent of Ali in a March 31 contest in San Diego at the Arena with the seats scaled to $100.

O'Halloran, on the night of the Frazier-Foreman fight said his suspension would be lifted that week. As of today the suspension has not been lifted.

Bugner has racked up 18 straight wins which includes 13 knockouts after being stopped in his first professional fight. He won the European Title in 1971 in a decision over Henry Cooper. Ali stopped Bob Foster in eight rounds in a fight at Stateline but suffered his first tight facial cut which required stitches.

Lee Fruin, who promoted the Foreman-Frazier fight here Jan. 22 will also promote the Ali-Bugner fight — but at substantially reduced prices.

Scale is $4.25-$8.25 with $1 off for military, seniors and students.

Week-end Title Service Provided

Title insurance orders in San Diego County may be opened until 8 p.m. on week-days and from noon until 5 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays at Land Title Insurance Co., according to Thomas A. Clarkson, president, who announced the extended service hours offered by his firm.

"This, to the best of our knowledge, is the first time that a title company has made title order service available on evenings and weekends, in addition to regular business hours," Clarkson said.

Land Title's new service, called "Extended Title Order Service (ETO)", now in operation, will enable real estate brokers and sales personnel to place a title order as soon as they have a signed deposit receipt or offer to purchase.

"With these documents at hand," Clarkson said, real estate salesmen or brokers need only phone Land Title and provide just six details: buyer's name, seller's name, parcel number, street address or legal description, the escrow office to be used, and the salesman or broker's name and firm. When we have this data, a title order number is assigned immediately and work on the title order itself can be expedited.

"It makes it possible to close a real estate transaction at an earlier date," he said.

Casa de Oro Library To Host Parrot Show

CARTER STAGE — Tyler Winn portrays a stern disciplinarian imposing restrictions on a rebellious mental patient, Russell T. Rohrer, as hospital psychiatrist Jim Sullivan observes his behavior in "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" presented by the Old Globe Theatre nightly except Monday through February 18 at the Carter Center Stage in Balboa Park.

'Cuckoo's Nest' Offered At Carter Center Stage

An emotional struggle for individual independence from institutional oppression creates gripping drama in "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest." The Dale Wasserman is based on the novel by Ken Kesey.

The Old Globe Theatre opened a limited run last week of the widely popular novel at the Carter Center Stage in Balboa Park. Performances are scheduled nightly Monday through February 18.

A convicted gambler, serving part of his prison sentence in a mental hospital, clashes with an iron-willed head nurse. He is a lusty, life-loving rebel who enjoys thumbing his nose at anything that would deprive him of his freedom. When he is forced into the restrictive existence in the mental ward, he attempts to enlist support from other patients to oppose the harsh discipline created by the nurse.

Action develops quickly as the imaginative con-man is confronted by the nurse and the pair create a clash of wills that provides much comedy but develops into a grim struggle for the minds and hearts of the other patients.

Russell T. Rohrer as the gambler and Tyler Winn as the head nurse are the adversaries in the Old Globe Production of "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest."

Off Broadway Plans Original Offerings Only

Vincent Miranda, owner and executive producer of the Off Broadway Theatre in San Diego, announced last week that, in the future, the theatre will operate on a new policy of presenting only original plays or musicals.

"We have found that it is financially impossible to be open 52 weeks out of the year and during the coming months will concentrate on new projects, such as the recent presentation of Rod Serling's "Storm In Summer", said Miranda.

The producer has several interesting new properties under consideration and will probably have an announcement as to the first presentation under the new policy in a few weeks. The theatre will be dark until then.

Helix Water Projects Await Impact Reports

Several pipeline replacement projects proposed by the Helix Water District engineering staff will have to await preparation of environmental impact reports before they are considered by the Board of Directors.

Included in the projects are new water mains for Costabella dr., North ave., and Olive ave., in Lemon Grove. The projects are needed to replace substandard mains which has broken in the past, to improve the flows, and to provide necessary fire flows.

The project should be completed, according to a spokesman for the district, in time to accommodate State Division of Highways construction.

Elephant To Learn Water-Ski Tricks

Sea World of San Diego will become a training camp for a baby elephant for the next few months with the arrival of Sunja, a 14-month-old Asian elephant.

The baby, a native of Thailand, will be trained to water-ski at the San Diego Park for her starring role in the Sea World of Ohio water-ski show this coming season, May 31-September 7.

Trainer Larry Deushane, said an initial training period will commence following a short period of rest for the elephant.

She will train for a period of about three months before joining the other animals in the annual cross-country flight — American Airlines Astro Ark — to the midwestern park near Cleveland. The "Astro Ark" is expected to leave in late April.

Deushane, who is credited with training the only other water-skiing elephant which is now in retirement, said "trying to find an elephant with the proper aptitude for water-skiing isn't easy."

Explaining his success with elephants, Deushane said it "stems from my desire to make our work together fun." Deushane has trained elephants for three years, and also has experience in dolphin training.

When asked which animal he preferred to work with, he said: "Elephants! They aren't nearly so wet to hug!"

Hegerty In Series Finale

"Born to be More," is the title selected by Christopher J. Hegerty for his presentation tomorrow in the series, "Expanding Your Horizons" sponsored by the San Diego County Library and Grossmont College's Office of Community Services.

Hegerty will speak at 11 a.m. in the United Artists Theatre, Parkway Plaza, El Cajon and at 8 p.m., in the Fine Arts Recital Hall at Grossmont College.

Hegerty, recently selected the "Outstanding Speaker of the Year" by the International Platform Speakers Association, Washington, D.C., has creatively communicated with audiences in the United States, Canada, Europe and the Middle East.

In addition to speaking engagements, Hegerty leads seminars throughout the United States in the areas of personal and business development. He is rated a top lecturer by the American Management Association and other national groups.

Hegerty, presently director of his own management consulting firm in Tiburon, California, is involved in a second career as a professional public speaker and leader of seminars.

The public is invited to hear Hegerty speak on man's potential in society. His appearance will close the popular series that brought a number of speakers to the Heartland area. There is no charge for admission to either the 11 a.m. appearance at the United Artists Theatre or the 8 p.m. program at Grossmont College.

UM-M-M-M GOOD, pronounces Food Services Manager John Leamons, left, of Lemon Grove, as cook L. E. "Whitey" Bostic lets him savor the aroma of food being prepared for patients at Edgemoor Geriatric Hospital in Santee. The facility, with a staff of 42 in its kitchen, must feed almost 500 patients a day, many on specialized diets.

Lemon Grove Man Runs Kitchen At Edgemoor Geriatric Hospital

Remember the old adage about too many cooks spoiling the soup? In John Leamons' kitchen, eight cooks work out very well.

Of course, his kitchen prepares a small flock of chickens, 100 pounds of potatoes, and 60 pounds of peas for just one noon meal. There is a standing order to deliver 66 gallons of fresh milk and 100 loaves of bread to his kitchen every day, too.

Leamons, of 2368 Lawton rd., Lemon Grove, is the food service manager at Edgemoor Geriatric Hospital in Santee. Edgemoor is a unit of the Department of Medical Institutions of the San Diego County Health Care Agency.

With a staff of 42 people, including the eight cooks, Leamons is responsible for the feeding of almost 500 mostly aged patients, many on special diets of various kinds. The preparation of three meals a day, every day, week in and week out, requires staff rotations to cover weekends and holidays, too.

Supplies must be ordered and stocked, meat has to be cut, dishes need scrupulous cleaning, the handicapped must be hand fed, tables require bussing, and overall cleanliness is a mandate for the entire food preparation, handling, and serving areas.

Leamons, however, is no stranger to operating such a facility, having progressed from a mess cook in the Navy of 1942 through the enlisted and warrant ranks to become a Navy lieutenant before he retired in 1968.

He was involved in feeding large groups of people throughout the 26 years, including in charge of food services at the Naval Training Center in San Diego at his retirement.

Quite different from the standard seafarer's "chow" are the varied special diets prescribed by doctors to fit the needs of the patients at Edgemoor.

Robert Parsons, acting associate administrator of the County medical institution, said, "Primarily a hospital for the elderly, Edgemoor goes beyond that. About 30 of the patients are suffering from mental illnesses and undergoing rehabilitation. Children as young as one year old have received in-patient care here for such things as brain damage."

The hospital is certified as a 575-bed facility by the California State Department of Public Health, although it is expected that an average of only 460 beds will be occupied during the present fiscal year.

Stroke and heart attack victims, regardless of age, may be sent to the facility to get long-term care which is not only medicinal, but helps them to adjust to their limitations and to receive physical and mental therapy. The patients are encouraged to participate in their own rehabilitation, according to Parsons.

The majority of Edgemoor's patients have Social Security or Veterans Administration incomes. Roughly 80 percent are covered under the State Medi-Cal program, Parsons said, and almost all are covered under some type of State or Federal assistance program.

The patients are fed a delicious and nutritious fare by Leamons — on a food budget of only 72 cents a day per patient. Such a figure might frighten most housewives, but they don't deal in the quantity purchasing that Leamons does.

"While the budget is adequate," Leamons said, "inflation is starting to hurt, especially the recent spiraling in the price of grain-related commodities."

He cited the recent one-third increase in bread costs to the facility, as well as a tremendous boost in egg prices.

"Being an agency of government, we can't just pay more, adjusting the monetary outflow in other areas," he continued. "We must take up the slack within our food purchases. It's difficult, but it also keeps my job from being routine."

The menu at Edgemoor is on a six-week cycle, but it is "back rotated" to keep it from being repetitive. Leamons and Chef Martha Sloan utilize seasonal fruits and vegetables to vary the fare, too.

Leamons and Parsons both agreed that meals are high points in the lives of hospital patients. The elderly, who have but few visitors, look forward to tasty victuals plus the chance to visit and mingle at the small tables in the main dining room. The meals there are served family-style.

Bed-fast and infirm patients are brought their meals on covered plates carried in closed metal carts. Some are able to feed themselves; others must be hand fed, and a few must receive special assistance with eating.

Busy John Leamons recently received an order of Merit award from the Explorer Division of the Boy Scouts of America for his volunteer efforts with Explorer Post 168 in Lemon Grove.

Bike Traffic 'Citations' Reduce Accidents Here

For the past several months, bicycling youngsters of Lemon Grove and west Spring Valley having been "cited" for infraction of traffic safety rules. Citations are issued by members of the California Highway Patrol Accident Reduction Team (ART).

Such youngsters appear in the El Cajon Municipal Court on a Saturday when the adult court is not in session. The bicycle court is presided over by trained high school students of Helix and Mt. Miguel high schools.

Usually, those found guilty are sentenced to school. School is conducted on the first Saturday of each month 9-11 a.m. at Mt. Miguel High School. There 30-40 youngsters show up, together with a handful of concerned parents, to attend classes.

At class the youngsters are under the tutelage of CHPA-trolman Fred Blundell. Blundell is the senior bailiff and technical advisor to the El Cajon Bicycle Safety Traffic Court and that provides plenty of authority for the classes.

So far, he says, the youngsters appear eager to learn and are co-operative and bright. Parents who attend the classes with their kids are usually surprised by the laws which govern bike riders.

Laws have changed since Mom and Pop rode bikes on low-traffic country roads. Everybody stopped for the youngster then. Today, in the mad scramble to get there on time via overcrowded streets and freeways, rules have to be enforced firmly and equally. That's one reason why ART is paying special attention to the youngsters. There were 21 bicycle traffic collisions in the Lemon Grove-West Spring Valley area in 1972. ART started in operation in September. In December and January there were no collisions. This indicates the ART bike watch and the Traffic Safety Court are effective.

Officer Blundell said the tests given at the end of the class indicate that the youngsters are getting the safety message the school is supposed to teach. "I wish we could get more parents to attend the class before their youngsters are ordered there."

"Safe bike practices carry over into auto driving," he said. He recalled an article which he read during his

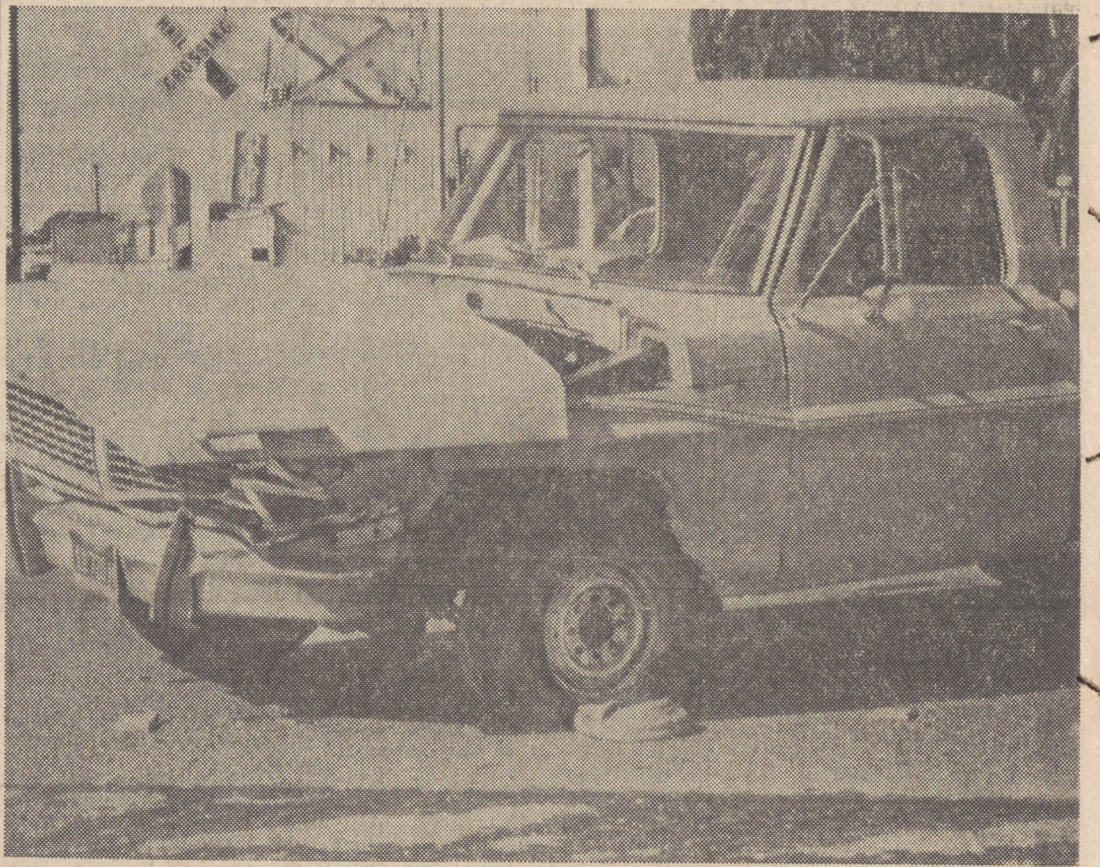

CHP training period. It tended to show that a youngster who sits squarely on his bike will become an aware auto driver who sits erect behind the wheel. Those who slouch as they ride a bike were shown to become sloppy auto drivers.

The class is open to the public each month that it is held. "It's a great place for parents to learn how to instruct their bicycling youngsters and probably avert a painful injury to him."

The bicycle safety program started in September as part of a general traffic up-grading in Lemon Grove and that part of Spring Valley near Sweetwater and Jamacha rd. In September 1972 there were three collisions involving bikes. Here's how it looked as the year progressed.

Hearing Set For LG Park

SAN DIEGO (CNA)—County supervisors on Tuesday set a hearing on the formation of a park service area for Lemon Grove.

The date was placed for March 3 at 2 p.m.

The official name of the organizations will be Lemon Grove County Service Area, No. 52 and will assist in the purchase and maintenance of a six acre park at the intersection of Berry and Mt. Vernon sts.

David K. Speer, county public works administrator, estimated that the maximum tax rate for this project would be 12.4 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

Bids to be Called On Route 94 Project

The California Division of Highways last week announced that bids will be called for a two-part project on Highway 94.

The first portion of the project calls for widening of the roadway by four feet in a section of the highway just west of Jamacha blvd. in Spring Valley.

The project calls for reconstructing curves in that area, improving the banking of the curves, and improving the shoulder areas.

The second portion consists of reconstructing 1.8 miles of roadway at Barrett Junction, east of Jamul, where the pavement has failed because of groundwater.

A total of $92,000 for the two-part project is budgeted.

Carter Organ Show On Tap

Gaylord Carter, nationally-known organist, will be featured in a program February 10 at the Southland Music Center, 3459 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove. The performance will begin at 8 p.m.

Carter is certainly no stranger to San Diego audiences. His musicianship can be traced to a thorough knowledge of the classics. While still attending high school, he began his career as an organist. For the next ten years he was soloist at leading theatres.

Radio beckoned in 1936, and perhaps his best-remembered is the "Amos 'n' Andy Show." The younger generation will recall Carter on the "Pinky Lee" show. In more recent years he has been travelling for "Flicker Fingers" presenting silent films with organ accompaniment.

The silent film to be shown February 10 will be "The Lost World," a story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, creator of the legendary Sherlock Holmes character and mysteries.

The film stars Lloyd Hughes, Bessie Love and assorted "wired monsters." It was one of the first science fiction films to come out of Hollywood and the special effects are the greatest for that period.

Tickets are available by mail, at the box office or by phoning 463-0308.
